Room 117 1st Floor 15h00 – 18h30	«The safe House» - films for children living at shelters in Norway
	Chair: Wanja Jeanette Sæther, Crisis Centre in Salten, Norway In the acute situation, it is not easy to capture all of the information, and therefore it is important that the information may be repeated. The Crisis centre in Salten made two films: 1. "The safe house"(Children who have lived at the shelter tell about their experiences). 2. "The Bird House"(A short information film about the shelter). The films are made by Microfilm, with support from Save the Children, and financed by the ExtraFoundation, Ministry of Justice and Public Security and The Norwegian Directorate for Children, Youth and Family Affairs. The films are primarily for the children, but the parents of the children staying at the shelter will also benefit from the films, like the staff at the shelters. The films can be used in guidance, instruction and in cooperation with other parts of the support system.

Room 237 1st Floor 15h00 – 18h30	How to help women understand the risk of victimisation in intimate partner. A self-assessment tool to increase awareness: ISA
	Chair: Anna Costanza Baldry, professor, Department of Psychology, Università degli Studi della Campania Luigi Vanvitelli, Italy Risk assessment procedures, actuarial or structural professional, are useful methods to help professionals to assess the level of risk and of recidivism a women encounters. Well-trained professionals manage also to convey their assessment to the woman so the communication of risk is understood and for a woman is more possible to take actions in the direction of her safety. However, there are several risk and needs factors that might interfere with this capacity of awareness and take uniformed coherent actions: practical (economical dependency, children,) and psychological (PTSD, forgiveness-forget). In this workshop we will present with practical examples and by performing role plays how to help women victims of violence to increase their awareness skills.

Room 241 2nd Floor 15h00 – 18h30	Developing a European framework for the Work with Perpetrators: the aims and scopes of WWP EN
	Chair: Alessandra Pauncz, secretary WWP EN, Italy The European Network for the Work With Perpetrators of domestic violence¹ (WWP EN) is a membership association of organizations directly or indirectly working with people who perpetrate violence in close relationships. The main focus of WWP EN is violence perpetrated by men against women and children. The overall mission of WWP EN is to prevent violence in close relationships as a gender-based phenomenon and to foster gender equality. More specifically, the mission of WWP EN is to improve the safety of women and their children and others at risk from violence in close relationships, through the promotion of effective work with those who perpetrate this violence, mainly men.

Room 244 2nd Floor 15h00 – 18h30	Preventing and responding to child to parent violence
	Chair: Maria Duah, Domestic Violence Intervention Project; United Kingdom Co-organisers: Nathan McGuire, Domestic Violence Intervention Project This workshop addresses the often hidden issue of abusive behaviour perpetrated against a parent/carer by their child. We will provide an overview of our innovative work to prevent further abuse through addressing the young person's (often learnt) behaviour at the earliest stage, and providing specialist support to affected parents/carers.

Room 249 2nd Floor 15h00 – 18h30	Ethical issues in domestic violence: women who remain or return to violent relationship
	Chair: Celyne Lalande, University of Montréal; Marie-Ève Bouthillier- CISSS of Laval, University of Montreal, Canada Co-organisers: Sonia Gauthier, University of Montreal, Canada Literature establishes that case workers who practice with women who stay or return with their abusive partner experience difficulties. However, the specific challenges causing these negative outcomes are poorly documented and rarely discussed. The objective of this workshop is to reflect and discuss about ethical issues related to intervention with these women.

Room 250 2nd Floor 15h00 – 18h30	Simple and Effective Control of Aggression – 4 steps
	Chair: Per Isdal, Alternative to violence, Norway Co-organiser: Mette Jensen Skålholt, Alternative to violence, Norway
	“Simple and Effective Control of aggression – 4 steps” is a specific method to train perpetrators in control of their own aggression. SECA is an important part of a treatment process with many perpetrators.

Room 253 2nd Floor 15h00 – 18h30	How to treat adolescents with violent behavior - A psychological approach
	Chair: Ragnhild Haakanes, Alternative to violence, Norway Co-organiser: Mette Jensen Skålholt, Alternative to violence, Norway
	This workshop will present a psychological treatment approach for adolescents aged 16-23 using domestic violence or violence in public places. The approach draws on trauma- and attachment theory and is aimed at the violent behavior of the teenagers. These issues will be demonstrated through examples from clinical practice, casework discussion and group exercises.

Room 254 2nd Floor 15h00 – 18h30	Make Resilience Matter: Applying Resilience Concepts to Practice with Children and Youth Exposed to Intimate Partner Violence Chair: Ramona Alaggia, University of Toronto; Co-organisers: Angelique Jenney, Child Development Institute, Canada; Sarah Morton, Centre for Research on Families and Relationships, University of Edinburgh, United Kingdom; Cathy Vine, Toronto.
	This workshop will present current theory and research on resilience factors and processes as these apply to practice with children and youth exposed to intimate partner violence (IPV). Casework discussion, small group exercises and supplemental materials will be provided aimed at clinicians working with children and youth exposed to IPV.

Room 256 2nd Floor 15h00 – 18h30	Using creative practices and participative work with women survivors in domestic violence refuges Chair: Susana Campos, Faculdade Arquitetura Universidade Lisboa, Portugal Co-organisers: Janet Bowstead Royal Holloway University of London, United Kingdom; Benedetta Cappellini Royal Holloway University of London, United Kingdom; Vicki Harman, University of Surrey, United Kingdom
	This workshop will draw on research which used participative work with women in refuges. It will include activities of creative and visual methods to explore space, place and displacement through which participants will be able to reflect on their own professional and personal practice with survivors of domestic violence.
